"Erik is an intelligent and motivated developer. On the core-tech team at Redtribe, he was able to learn and improve-on various parts of the system with relative ease. His ideas for improvement were always welcome, well thought out and well executed (and often from previous experience). I'd recommend Erik as a developer."

— Ryan Butterfield, Lead Systems Engineer, Redtribe, managed Erik indirectly at Redtribe

"While working with Erik as part of the Core-tech team at Redtribe, I found Erik to be a fantastic worker and highly skilled Engineer. He is always ready to deal with difficult situations and solve the problems with speed, and efficiency. He is a motivated and smart programmer, shown by his work on implementing a new memory system and Integration of our 3D game engine into the new C# tool we were creating. I strongly endorse Erik."

— Adam Templeton, Iphone/Mac Developer, Redtribe, worked directly with Erik at Redtribe

"I found Erik to be a very solid programmer. He works very well in both supervised and unsupervised roles. He has very deep understanding of foundation level computer systems, Advanced language techniques and is quite pleasant to discuss such topics at length. In summary, I would seriously consider him for any position he tendered for."

— Andrew Phillips, Senior Lead Engineer, Red Tribe, managed Erik indirectly at Redtribe

"Erik is a talented developer. He writes clean, well structured code, no matter how complex the system being built. He is hard working and not afraid to put his hand up for the difficult tasks. He is also very passionate about IT industry and keeps up with all the latest trends and developments."

— Russell Smith, Game / Tool Programmer, Redtribe, worked directly with Erik at Redtribe

— Ralph Stock, CEO, Promotion Software GmbH, was with another company when working with Erik at Sixteen Tons Entertainment

"I can't recommend Erik highly enough; he is an expert programmer and dedicated problem solver. I enjoyed collaborating with him as he would always find creative ways to overcome impediments and improve existing solutions. His dedication and passion for quality work pushed the team to improve their own efforts. Erik will be a cornerstone to any team, but above all he's a great guy to have around. Miss you mate!"

— Bernhard Schiffer, Lead Game Designer, Sixteen Tons, managed Erik at Sixteen Tons Entertainment

"Erik is an excellent SW-Architect and Developer especially in the area of 3D Graphics. He is able to analyse, design and implement requirements in a very straight and efficient way. He was always open to help colleagues in improving their design and implementation expertise. I think, Erik was a very valueable partner who helped us to reach our strategic targets."

— Horst Pfluegl, was Erik's client

"Erik did a very well job here at AVL. He got a wide knowledge and helped us tremendously to develop our graphic library (c++/c#) as well as to implement core components such as a high performance, network-enabled logging (TCP/UDP, C#) or a GDI+ based render target (C#) to allow for report creation and software rendering tasks. It was a pleasure to work with Erik as his social skills are also way beyond the standard."

— Ramin Dalkouhi, Softwareentwickler, AVL, worked directly with Erik at AVL List
